

I have been made aware that the FCC is considering a proposal that could diminish the protection that those of us who live in Indiana receive from Indiana's Telephone Privacy law.

I am asking that you do not propose and/or pass any regulations that will preempt state Telephone Privacy laws in favor of a national standard, especially one that will lesser our protections. However, I am open to your proposing regulations that will only be imposed on states which do not have their own Telephone Privacy law.

Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my family's home life by lessening the annoying interruptions that telemarketers had previously been allowed to do by intruding into our homes. It is by far the best law that has been passed in recent history. We used to receive as many as 10 phone calls per DAY from telemarketers. Now, we seldom get any, or at most 1 or 2 per WEEK. Please allow us Hoosiers to keep our peaceful lives.
